

Recruiting & Retaining Top Talent

Tools for embracing diversity for competitive advantage!

How do you know that the message you are sending to the recruitment market is what potential recruits want to hear?

and,

With the global talent shortage, what strategies are you employing to make sure you attract the very best talent available?

Let me ask you this,

- Do you regularly monitor the jobs market and your competitors to see what's hot and what's not?
- Do you know what your future employees want in their next job
- Do you know where you are most likely to get your next employee from (i.e. a school leaver, from a competitor or perhaps from within your own organisation).
- Do you regularly conduct exit and employee surveys to gauge employee satisfaction and, if so what actions do you take?
- What is your organisation's EVP?

Recruiting and Retaining Top Talent is a one day intensive workshop designed to give you the inside running to employ winning tactics that will ensure you attract and keep the best talent available for your organisation. With global talent shortages and the enormous emerging talent markets of Brazil, Russia, China and India many of our best and brightest will be lured offshore or interstate unless you can provide them with a compelling value proposition to stay with you. This workshop will give you the simple secrets for success – follow our winning formula and you will be sure to have your pick of the best and the brightest!
